

Jefferson London

Facilitating the path from aspiration to innovation

Synergy, Cohesion, Impact...
All start with a facilitated conversation.

It's a moment you want to be in, not running.

That's where Jefferson London steps in — to design and facilitate your pivotal team moments so you can be fully present. You can trust his process to engage every voice and align perspectives into clear, collective outcomes. Whether in the boardroom or over coffee, online or in person, Jefferson turns talk into traction. His craft lies in making your gatherings participatory, impactful, and deeply energising.

Facilitating Your Strategic Meeting

When leaders need alignment on direction, strategy, or ways of working, Jefferson helps you get there — fast and thoughtfully.

He facilitates leadership retreats where all voices contribute to progress on pressing issues. Behind-the-scenes tensions, politics, or egos? He provides a neutral, confidential space where executive teams find shared clarity, deeper debate, better decisions, and greater impact.

Bringing Your People Together

Motivation, inclusion, synergy — when engagement clicks, it feels like magic. It's actually the art of group-process facilitation.

Jefferson designs and hosts inspiring large-group events that spark dialogue, sensemaking, and team connection. Each session is custom-built to your goals, often becoming a turning point for those involved. Many have won awards; all inspire collective action.

Designing Ways of Working

Getting things done together — it's an age-old dilemma, a space of constant change, and the secret of successful organisations.

Jefferson creates tools that help teams facilitate their own progress — from conversation guides and meeting rituals to brainstorm frameworks and reflection kits. Custom facilitation packs for your internally branded use or public products found at StimulatingConversation.org

You're in Safe Hands

With 30 years in organisational development, Jefferson has helped leaders and teams worldwide strengthen collaboration and impact. Former board member of the International Association of Facilitators (IAF) and long-time host of their Facilitation Impact Awards, Jefferson has led programs at Deloitte, the Center for Creative Leadership, and major corporate universities. Clients include Spotify, Nestlé, Pernod Ricard, the EIB, Philips, and the Cabinet of the European Parliament President.

About Jefferson

Jefferson lives in Bali. A native New Yorker, he called Europe home for thirty years — where he met his French wife. Their community is into leadership development, coaching, facilitation, entrepreneurship and disruption. They run a portfolio of innovative projects. Two kids and a kooky cat. Loves art, exploring Southeast Asia, and tending to their mango tree.

“Jefferson brings out the best in us — to have impact together. His sessions are engaging, memorable, and just what we need.”
